PLEASE REVIEW | CONSOLIDATED TAX STATEMENT AVAILABILITY

Thank you for being a valued client. We are committed to providing you with important information related to your account(s).

What you need to know:

Morgan Stanley combines several Forms 1099 into one Consolidated Tax Statement, which will be available to you as outlined below:

- If your account is enrolled in eDelivery: Available online between February 13 and February 20.*
- If your account is not enrolled in eDelivery: Mailed between February 16 and February 23.*
 - For a faster, more secure way to get your tax forms, you can enroll in eDelivery by visiting www.morganstanley.com/edelivery

Please note: If you also have an E*TRADE from Morgan Stanley account, you may receive tax statements (such as Forms 1099) from both Morgan Stanley and E*TRADE from Morgan Stanley. These tax statements contain information related to different transactions and you and your tax advisor should consider and review all tax forms received when preparing your 2025 income tax return.

Additional information:

The final classification of income for some types of securities is determined by issuers after year-end. To improve accuracy and completeness, Morgan Stanley waits for these final classifications to issue your tax forms. However, in certain cases, Morgan Stanley receives income reclassification information after tax statements have been mailed. As a result, we are obligated by law to issue a corrected Form 1099. Reclassifications are common across the financial services industry and are not unique to Morgan Stanley.

If you have any questions, please contact us. Thank you for the opportunity to serve your financial needs. We look forward to continuing to provide you with the highest level of service.
